

GIBLIN'S STATEMENT.

We publish elsewhere today a plea in justification of his killing of Mrs. Goetz in February, 1888, by CHARLES GIBLIN, who now awaits execution for the crime of which he was convicted.

The prisoner lays great stress upon his previous good character as evidence of his incapability of committing the brutal murder with which he is charged.

The question of character is always a proper one for a jury to weigh, and doubtless GIBLIN has the full benefit of it in the deliberations of the jury. But the instances are numberless where persons of previous good repute have committed crimes most foul.

Upon the evidence as adduced at the trial the conviction of GIBLIN was amply justified. Whether that evidence was true or false is another question. GIBLIN asserts that perjury, wilful and rank, was resorted to to convict him. This is not an unusual view or claim of felons. According to their own assertions they are generally much abused innocents.

Can GIBLIN prove the perjury? He says he is now prepared to do so. He says that evidence discovered since the trial will show him guiltless of murder. Who are the witnesses? Let them be named and their affidavits be filed. Then, and not till then, will public opinion be shaken in GIBLIN's guilt.

THE COWARDLY DYNAMITE.

MICHAEL DAVITT, in his evidence before the Parnell Commission yesterday, spoke manfully against the use of dynamite as a weapon to advance the Irish cause. He spoke truthfully when he said that its use was unmanly and cowardly.

There can be no doubt that the cause of Ireland has been seriously damaged by the brutal acts of those who substitute assassination for reason. DAVITT's portrayal of PARNELL's despair in consequence of the Phoenix Park murders is an instructive sidelight on the methods and purposes of that great apostle of liberty.

A cause so just as that of Ireland is advanced only when contended for courageously and nobly. It is a struggle of men for manhood. Cowardly assassins and dynamiters are in effect but England's allies.

THEY DO AS THEY PLEASE.

Now that provision has been made for paving the streets of this city, the officials are balked in prosecuting the work by several gas corporations. Until the gas people have done with tearing up the streets in digging mains, it is idle for the city authorities to proceed. The money thus expended would be wasted.

Commissioner GILROY finds that nearly two hundred streets requiring gas mains remain untouched. The companies evidently propose to take their time. And, as usual, the public suffers.

There should be no further delay caused by these corporations. Their franchises depend upon compliance with the city's orders in this matter. If they persist in ignoring the public welfare they ought to be choked out of existence.

All a man has to do nowadays to become famous is to disappear for a few days, and he is at once added to the list of Clan-na-Gael victims. Culpable as that Society or GIBLIN's murder, this charging it with everything is growing monotonous.

MUNDANE MATTERS.

The Boston Club is not the "hub" of the baseball world that was. Just now it misses its backers.

The pluck shown by little Katie Brophy in undertaking to run her father's beer saloon, while he was absent under arrest, was worthy of a better cause.

The eccentric emigrant who thought to bring an official with a sixpence has been ordered returned to the country from whence he came. His failure to properly size up his institutions deserves sternest reproof. But he is a poor man, and besides a sixpence is too little a way for this big country.

Paul Ryan, who knows whereof he speaks, says that the sensation caused by being hit by Sullivan is like a dream. Probably a case of being "put to sleep."

LYNCH WAS MARKED TWO.

Report says He Was to Have Died at the Carlton Cottage.

CHICAGO, July 3.

The Times of this morning has a story that Thomas Lynch, of the firm of H. H. Shufeldt & Co., was also meant for a victim at the Carlton cottage, where Dr. Cronin was killed.

Kunze, the prisoner who is closely guarded at Police Headquarters, is said to have confessed this and other important matters. Detective Dan Connelley is involved in the alleged plan against Lynch, and the latter admits that Connelley did once break him to a jail escape from some intended injury.

TO PURIFY HUNTER'S POINT.

The State Board of Health met this morning in the parlor of the Everett House to discuss the best means of abolishing the existing foul odors at Hunter's Point.

The result was the adoption of a resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Board to confer with the Attorney-General and learn the powers of the Board in the premises.

Failure on the Consolidated. T. S. Brown, a member of the Consolidated Exchange, to-day announced his inability to meet his contracts. About 1,300 shares of stock were sold out for his account.

NOT A CHEER.

President Harrison Gets a Frigid Reception in New York.

Saluted Only by the Ticket-Taker at the Grand Central Depot.

Off to Woodstock, Conn., with a Select Party of Friends.

After a brief stay in Gotham President Harrison has shaken its dust and mud from his feet and taken himself eastward.

He left the Grand Central Depot at 10:01 o'clock this morning and went on his way to Woodstock, Conn., where he is to be entertained by Henry C. Bowen, of the Independent, until the Fourth of July.

The President arrived in the city last night, accompanied by Clarence W. Bowen, Secretary and Mrs. Noble, Secretary Tracy and Lieut. Mason, of the Navy Department. The party put up at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

This morning at 9:30 the President left the hotel and was driven to the Grand Central train arriving at 10:01 o'clock. He was clad in his well-worn suit of black broadcloth and looked pale and tired. There was also no demonstration on his arrival and as he passed through the gate the ticket taker respectfully removed his hat.

Outside there was some little delay in making up the train. The President waited against the iron fence while about a half-dozen from the train and elated in turn with Judge Choate, Col. Elliot F. Shepard and John P. Stanger, Lieut. Ward and Miss Edith Moore. Once he stepped out of the train, he was again surrounded by a throng of admirers.

At 9:55 the word was given, and the party passed through the gate to the train. It was the second section of the Shore Line express, two drawing-room cars forward being reserved for the party.

President Harrison took a seat on the left-hand side of car 506, near the center of the car.

Other members of the party who followed were Secretary of the Navy, Tracy and wife, Secretary Noble and wife, Senator Hiseok, Congressman McKinley, W. E. D. Stokes, John P. Stanger, Lieut. Ward and Miss Edith Moore, Lieut. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Will Carleton, Mr. and Mrs. Willingford, Misses Brookman, Justice Miller, James Harlan, George C. Holt, Herbert Wolcott Bowen, Lieut. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harbison, President Gates, of Rutgers College, John W. Salisbury and wife, Dr. William Hays Ward and Miss Edith Moore, the last named a sweet-faced girl from Brooklyn and the youngest member of the party.

Chiefly Erhardt came in at the last moment and saw the party off. At 10:01 conductor L. W. Searles gave the signal, and the train moved off. The President waved his hat after it, and it was soon out of sight. Mr. William Astor was a passenger on the train, but was not with the party.

The train will go as far as New Haven and then the Presidential party will go in a special to Woodstock. A stop will be made at Stamford, Conn., where Gov. Morgan, C. H. Bailey and other officials of that city will meet the party.

The train will also stop at Hartford, where the Mayor and other officials of that city, with the First Regiment of Connecticut and the Governor's Foot Guards will give the party a reception.

At Woodstock they will go on to Woodstock, where another rural reception will be given. To-night the President will engage in a little game of draughts, and a card party will be given at Mr. Bowen's home. The Fourth will be occupied by receptions, speech-making and a general good time.

TYPHOID AT WILKESBARRE.

Over a Hundred and Fifty Cases of the Fever Reported There.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 3.—This city is threatened with an epidemic of typhoid fever. Within the past few weeks numerous cases have developed among the people using the water of a stream known as Laurel Run, which supplies the eastern portion of the city with water.

The physicians of the city, becoming alarmed at the large number of cases reported this morning, made a careful canvass of the streets and over one hundred cases of the fever were discovered.

All of the cases are aggravated by the summer of the water supply, aggravated by the prolonged wet weather and the dampness of the air.

Laurel Run supplies the whole eastern portion of the city, and supplies of water from other sources are insufficient to meet the requirements of the people.

From present indications there will either be a water famine or a typhoid fever epidemic.

A Meeting in Comptroller Myers's Office.

Comptroller Myers, not belonging to the class of collectors who will accept the Nation's money at any price, has called a meeting of the National Association of Commissioners of the State of New York at the Carlton Hotel, New York, for the purpose of discussing the proposed bill for the payment of the National debt.

At the meeting, Mr. Myers, who is a member of the National Association, will deliver a paper on the subject of the National debt.
